WHO IS VIC?

The name "Vic's" comes from our grandfather, who has many traits and a moral foundation that has guided us throughout our years.

He grew up poor, worked his way through an engineering education, became a teacher, then a steel worker and eventually owned his own small steel fabrication business.

He was a man of few words, wore the same two outfits. Loved to lean back in his chair with one leg hanging over the other as he dipped sweet bread in his coffee while reading the morning paper. He was a man's man. But above all, he loved his family, his wife and all 7 of his children.

When you come in, you'll feel his lasting influence in our lives through our hospitality, from the minute we welcome you in till we express our gratitude as you leave.

We intend to give you an experience that'll have you coming right back for the very next meal or even just a conversation.

We hope to build a place that will last through generations so your grandkids and ours may share the same space and conversations.
